WOMEN, KEEPING THE WORLD TURNING

Director(s): Agnès POIRIER, Ryoko TSUNODA

Writer(s): Agnès POIRIER, Ryoko TSUNODA

Click here to view the opening sequence of Part One!

Ten women in ten different countries and cultures are about to begin a new chapter of their lives. They were born in the '70s when a dynamic movement for equality gave women equal rights, access to education and jobs. Today, they are in their forties, have a greater choice, better opportunities. Or do they? They are French, Japanese, Tunisian, Chinese, Russian or American. Their individual life stories are an indicator of the progress achieved in just one generation. But how do you enjoy a rewarding career without sacrificing personal aspirations? And where do the men fit in?

Our characters:
Sarah (France) - Maiko (Japan)
Katya (Russia) - Lily (China)
Wafa (Tunisia) - Hazel (Kenya)
Parveen (India) - Kirstin (USA)
Julie (Canada) - Maria Antonieta (Brazil)

"WOMEN, KEEPING THE WORLD TURNING" is a journey through a world where women have the same or better degrees and diplomas as men, a world in which almost half of the active work force are women. Women have become actors in all walks of life and they are tangible proof that the world is changing... that THEY are changing the world.

Categorie(s): Society & Human Interest
Tag(s): Family, Society, women/ equal opportunities, jobs

Producer(s): POINT DU JOUR, DOCUMENTARY JAPAN INC.
Coproducer(s): FRANCE TELEVISIONS, NHK, TV5 QUEBEC, YES DOCU
Length: 2x52 / Format: One-off

Original version: English

Versions available: Versions available: French / International French / International

Nationality: France, Japan, 2012

Rights: Asia: NHK Enterprises;
Rest of the world: Point du Jour International

Support(s): HD Cam

http://www.pointdujour-international.com/catalogueFiche.php?idFiche=38078&lang=en