

GREAT BRITAIN - ROWING

Director(s): Helene RISACHER

Each morning, the rowers meet on the banks of the river Thames. Among them, the rising stars in a discipline that has been dominated by Great Britain. There is the traditional race between Oxford and Cambridge, of course, but all the rowers hope to follow one day in the footsteps of Steven Redgrave, the greatest of them all: five gold medals in five successive Olympic Games.
