

DRAGAN WENDE: WEST BERLIN

Director(s): Lena MÜLLER, Dragan VON PETROVIC

Writer(s): Lena MÜLLER, Dragan VON PETROVIC

2014: 25 YEARS SINCE THE FALL OF THE WALL

HOW THE TRABANT INVADED WEST BERLIN AND RUINED MY UNCLE'S KINGDOM!

Yugoslav immigrant Dragan Wende (his ex-wife's surname), once the King of West Berlin's 1970s disco scene, wants to have The Wall back up. Things were much better before! Today, he earns his living as a bordello doorman. And as if that wasn't bad enough, along come his filmmaker nephew Vuk to explore the myth of his uncle from the West, followed by father Mile, a retired first generation guest worker, proud builder of West Berlin and also a great friend of the Wall.

A loving tale of the divided Berlin and the still united Yugoslavia. All swept away on the tides of history.

AVAILABLE FOR SCREENING:

1. the 58 min. version
2. the 85' version

Categorie(s): Topical interest & anniversaries, History & Current Affairs, Society & Human Interest

Tag(s): Human interest, Personal Viewpoint, 20th Century History

Producer(s): von.müller.film

Coproducer(s): RBB

Length: 1x58, 1x85 / Format: One-off

Original version: English

Versions available: German: subtitle

Nationality: Germany, 2013

Rights: world excl. Germany, Austria, Sweden, ex-Yugoslavia, Slovakia, Hungary, Poland

Support(s): HD Cam

<http://www.pointdujour-international.com/catalogueFiche.php?idFiche=38235&lang=en>