

TEMPUS FUGIT

Director(s): Anaïs SPIRO, Olivier SPIRO

The film « Tempus Fugit » is a recreation for the camera of the work by Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui, the Flemish choreographer of Moroccan descent, and Les Ballets C. de la B.

The film is set in a magnificent Moroccan palm grove. A woman is at the centre of gravity, at its epicentre. The film's heroine - pursued by an invisible presence - meets a prince. The prince falls madly in love with her, but she leaves him for another. Soon however, her past catches up with her...

The inspiration for « Tempus Fugit » lies without a doubt in the popular cinema of India with its great melodramas that blend dance, song, music and enchantment. Their complexity stems often - just as in Tempus Fugit - from the confrontation between tradition and modernity.
